JANUARY, 2019

Infinite Possibilities

By Rev. Elaine Fuller-Zachey

It's a new year, a miracle, a clean slate, new fallen snow not yet marked by footsteps. The concept of a new year is to me a concept of a new me. It's full of infinite possibilities. With Inner Christ guidance, I can change and grow more into my true self. In an infinite universe, anything that can happen will happen and more. I don't remember the physicist who said that, but it stuck and to me it indicates unbounded freedom. (Continued page 3)

I remember how good it feels when I finally get around to sorting all that stuff in our home or at the office. When I clean up and get rid of the scattered, messy or confused conditions, things begin to go smoother. The same is true when I tidy up my thoughts. I desire the same feeling now.

In the beginning of this New Year, 2019, making changes in my life may not mean adding something new, but getting rid of something old. That may include material possessions but is more likely to be remembering my choice of words; reversing negative thoughts into positive loving thoughts.

I have already put a plan in motion to start cleaning out cupboards, files, closets, and a store room. I am also meditating and praying to be fed more loving, kinder thoughts. After all, more loving kinder thoughts equal more loving kinder words.

What are your goals for 2019?

May all be blessed with lots of love, great health, peace, joy and laughter in the new year.

Love Kayla Rose

The Four Spiritual Laws of Prosperity

By Edwene Gaines

Discount price: $17.28 including tax

Years before she became the celebrated speaker and Unity minister she is today, Edwene Gaines was raising her daughter in abject poverty. She turned toward her faith for reassurance and finally asked for direction. It seemed impossible at the time, however, she began to follow the four spiritual laws of prosperity: tithing, goal-setting, forgiveness and finding her divine purpose. Gaines guarantees that following these principles will change your life into one of abundance and freedom.

Combine that with the Teaching of the Inner Christ's wisdom about True Desires. These are the desires in the here and now that we are born with and point us toward our life purpose(s). Maybe we express them in childhood, maybe not.

As a child I drew. My parents had a little chalkboard in the kitchen and I started drawing on it before I began school. Now I paint with acrylics and I've sold a few pieces. Selling some is a part of a new successful art career. My art expresses the spiritual nature of subject and in a universe of infinite possibilities. (Continued on page 7)

Hidden San Diego: This week – Balboa Park

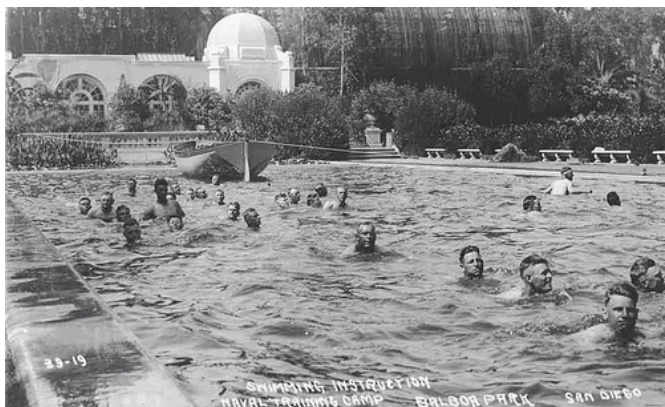

Balboa Park Botanical Garden

Hours: Free to the public on FRI thru WED, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (Closed Thursdays and holidays).

Personal Experience: If you are a photographer, lover of nature, beauty and/or fresh air, then you must check out the botanical building at least once! This beautiful building can be seen in movies such as National Lampoon's Dorm Daze. This building was built in 1915-1916. The Botanical Building plantings include more than 2,100 permanent plants. This is a beautiful, tropical oasis!

And a fun little tip: Did you know the Reflection Pool in Balboa Park was used as a swimming pool during World War I and II? During World War I, it was used to teach sailors to swim. During World War II, it was used as a rehabilitation pool. Awesome!

Parking Spot

A man was driving down the street, very upset because he had an important meeting and couldn't find a parking space. Looking up to heaven, he said, "Lord, take pity on me. If you find me a parking space, I promise to go to church every Sunday for the rest of my life and give up swearing."

Miraculously, a spot opened right in front of the building. The man looked up and said, "Never mind. I found one."

It's a true desire of showing the spirituality of all existence for me. The possibility of selling my art creates a pull for more. When I paint I'm in a light meditation and recognize my subject's true spiritual nature, its holiness. I embrace my freedom to learn and grow within and as part of the Infinite universe. Prayer brings my consciousness in alignment with the infinite holiness. It is my gift to myself and God. We can meditate with our Inner Christ to seek to express anew what we came here to express. We can see where we fit in this universe of infinite possibilities.

LITTLE FREE LIBRARY

The people who started the movement:

In the beginning—2009—Todd Bol of Hudson, Wisconsin, built a model of a one room schoolhouse as a tribute to his mother, a former school teacher who loved reading. He filled it with books and put it on a post in his front yard. His neighbors and friends loved it. He built several more and gave them away. Each one had a sign that said FREE BOOKS

Our Mission:

To promote literacy and the love of reading by building free book exchanges worldwide. To build a sense of community as we share skills, creativity and wisdom across generations.

Our Goal: To build 2,510 Little Free Libraries—as many as Andrew Carnegie—and keep going.

Key Strategies: Promotion of reading for children, literacy for adults and libraries around the world.

Locations:

Clairemont: 3314 Karok Ave.

El Cajon: 5854 Malvern Ct. & Madra Ave. (address unknown)

Golden Hill: Fern Street (street address unknown)

Mira Mesa: 10444 Cheviot Court

Mission Hills: 2153 Pine St. & 2341 Whitman St.

North Park: 3412 Quince St., 2263 Pentuckett Ave &
3530 Cooper St.

Old Town: 611 Grandview St.

Point Loma: 3343 Harbor View Dr.

Personal Experience: The Little Free Library is special for so many reasons. I love how each library is crafted differently from all the others and created with an obvious amount of love. This concept is so simple and yet can be so effective if we let it. The purpose is to get us to read and share our books instead of just throwing them out, selling them or letting them collect dust on our bookshelf.
