TRUSTING THE PROCESS OF LIFE

Recently, as most of you know, my son Matthew returned home. I had been looking forward to it! We were fixing up his room for him and all was well. However, when the time grew near and at the prospect of picking him up the next day, my subconscious mind went into fear, anxiety and a feeling of losing control. Dread.

When I meditated and asked for Perfect, Divine, Right Order and Action as well as Divine Peace, Harmony and Balance to be present with me—I felt much, much better. I realized I could treat daily for guidance and support and all would work out.

When I went to pick him up in L.A. they couldn't tell me exactly when he would be released. It could be between 1 and 5 hours. My mind went into frustration and irritation. Then several people spoke to me and offered information and support, and a nice woman, Denise, had lunch with me and made the time pass much more quickly.

Through all this, it's again proof that all which comes our way is purposeful, and I am reminded I need to TRUST the process of life and attune to Spirit for the Blessings Already Are!!!

"The best gift you can give the world is to keep your mind on the truth. Visualize peace, visualize understanding and visualize harmony. Everywhere you go, know the truth. This has a more powerful effect than you can even imagine."
