New Year, New Energy

The turning of the year is always a good time to reassess our priorities --- our goals --- and take stock. I've had a few things on my "to do" list for months and they haven't gotten done. It was fed to me that one of the things I needed to work on this year was "procrastination. I contemplated taking these items off my list. After all, if I wasn't committed to doing them, why have them on my list?

I took this to Spirit in meditation. The message that came to me was take them one at a time and "envision" your life if this item is completed. How would you feel? Would you have more energy? Would it help you to move forward with your other goals?"

When I began to do this, especially with one goal in mind, I had a resounding "YES". I feel that this is a great way to help me prioritize goals.

Here is another testament to the importance of meditation, and asking for guidance and support from above. As the Law of Correspondence states: "For every question there is an answer. For every problem, there is a solution." If we listen; we will get answers!

Happy New Year,
The Blessings Already Are
