February 2020

I recently completed my Inner Sensitivity Course, at the center—reviewing Lesson 12. The first part of the lesson deals with the Beatitudes of Jesus (The Sermon on the Mount). Through the channeled teaching we have an interpretation resulting in “Christ Mind Attitudes”. These are really spiritual principles to live by. Two that are particularly useful for me in this new year of 2020 are #2 and #6.

Number two—“Blessed are those who mourn—for they shall be comforted”. It’s stressed that “mourning is change”. Change is necessary for the flow of spontaneous living. We know that in God there is no lack of good. So through our faith in God’s continuing good in our lives, we can let go of completed experiences and go on to new ones.

Number six—“Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God”. In the Bible, “heart” signifies the subconscious mind, the seat of the emotions. “As our subconscious minds are cleared of negative emotions such as doubt, fear, guilt, resentment, etc., we become more and more able to see the Truth. Perfection in ourselves, in others, in all of life. The ‘pure’ in heart—is seeing only good in every person, place and experience,”

If I can embrace these two Christ Mind Attitudes in my everyday living, I’ll have a pretty great year!

Perfection is everywhere present. The blessings already are!!
