“Spiritual Food is that which inspires us, teaches us, reminds us of the Truth, and causes us to remember who we really are.”

Edwene Gaines

Tithing is the first spiritual law that author, Edwene Gaines, writes about in her book, The Four Spiritual Laws of Prosperity, and it is the book we are using for our current Prosperity workshop. She challenges us to put God first in our finances.

From her own experience of moving from poverty consciousness to one of mastering money, she encourages us to give to where we receive our "Spiritual Food". Tithing is a beginning discipline in giving and receiving. Tithing increases our faith and pushes us through our conscious fears.

Giving was not in my consciousness when I first joined the Teaching of the Inner Christ in 1970. My teachers, Revs. Ann and Peter Meyer, taught students how to develop faith and trust in our own I Am, and to love to give as well as receive; a practice that has enriched my life in the past and continues today.

It was in the Teaching that I practiced the faith that opportunities and joy are present within our problems and challenges. Moving from a consciousness of lack and fear, from I can't to one of abundance and of course, "I can", was a defining journey. As I took on this new way of thinking, life began to present itself in new and exciting ways. I have choices.

I learned to be guided by the Divinity within me and was willing to follow that beautiful voice within. My Spiritual Food comes from the teachings offered in our textbook, Being a Christ, and in the channeled messages from Jesus. I give my consciousness-raising tithe to our Teaching.

Love,

Rev. Vicki Walker
