"Joy has come to live with me. How can I be sad?
I do so love Thy presence, which is joy within me."

Ernest Holmes

When Joy comes to live with us, it is warmth, a bright future, our spirits are lifted, we see the light, we have arrived and perhaps reached a spiritual goal. And living with Joy, as Holmes expresses, is embracing the Divine, being one with, not separate from. A Love story. Our spiritual journey asks us to attune to the Divine, and the promise is Joy.

Our true self is the "I Am that I Am," the "Alpha and the Omega," the beginning and the end. Ask, "In what ways can I attune myself to my God-conscious being?"

Being a Christ, our textbook for Inner Sensitivity Training, suggests we first develop an understanding of Christ consciousness and levels of sensitivity. Then teaches the student how to use meditation to go deeper beyond the psychic barrier (our barrier of belief) and personally connect with our spiritual identity.

Spiritual turning points are gifts of grace and require us to be curious and welcome throughout our life a process of discovery of ourselves as a Christ.

We begin our spiritual growth by trusting in a power greater than ourselves, then we learn to pray, meditate, and channel. Resentments are boulders, barriers. As we spiritually progress, it is essential to embrace forgiveness for ourselves as well as others. Along our path of spiritual discovery, we develop our identity and begin to create intimacy with our I Am Self.

How will you contribute and nurture that which will outlive you? What choices are you making today that will help you lead a meaningful life? Explore where you are in life, become aware of your journey's turning points, and most importantly, Practice the Presence of God as Joy.

Love and Light,
Rev. Vicki
