"Let Freedom Ring"

By Rev. Mary Ann Kelley

As we celebrate our month of independence, let us remember that we are endowed by our creator with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, as enshrined in the Preamble to our Constitution of the United States of America. (continued on page 3)

From “New Age Thought – The Magazine of Deeper Metaphysics,” the topic for the day by James Dickes, is: “God: My All.” The article follows:

“Man shall now explore every facet of his own basic nature and glorify it. The time has come that the man must be whole, must know glory in every instinct of his mind and his heart.” Christs of the New Age, page 15.

“I recognize God as all that I am. I am one with God in every facet of my being and every area of my life. I am perfect, as God has made me perfect. I express the perfect Truth of God in all that I think, say, and do. I fully recognize and accept the guidance of God as my only guidance. I make perfect choices, and I express myself always in ways which are best for me and for all. The wisdom of God ever guides, instructs me, and feeds me the Christ understanding. I embody these teachings, and live them fully today and each day.

I thank God for my perfection, and for His being my source of faith in all ways. So it is.” – James Dickes

Anytime we feel separate from God, it would be inspiring to repeat this passage many times to ourselves.

We genuinely appreciate your financial support.

Please remember, if you are absent we are still here, and with your continuous financial support, we always will be.

"We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

It is a wonderful time of remembering and prayer for our veterans, especially our fathers, brothers, husbands, mothers, daughters, wives, neighbors, friends and all who have served to preserve our freedom, such as police, firefighters. We also acknowledge those who volunteer to help those in need; for our parades, fireworks, picnics, patriot music and the delight of gathering with family and friends, and so many more who serve us in so many ways. Let us be grateful for this beautiful country in which we live, move, and have our being and for the freedoms we enjoy!

Much Love to you All,
Rev. Mary Ann Kelley

“May we think of freedom, not as the right to do as we please, but as the opportunity to do what is right.” — Peter Marshall

A History of Independence Day

When the initial battles in the Revolutionary War broke out in April 1775, few colonists desired complete independence from Great Britain, and those who did were considered radical.

By the middle of the following year, however, many more colonists had come to favor independence, thanks to growing hostility against Britain and the spread of revolutionary sentiments such as those expressed in the bestselling pamphlet "Common Sense," published by Thomas Paine in early 1776.

On June 7, when the Continental Congress met at the Pennsylvania State House (later Independence Hall) in Philadelphia, the Virginia delegate Richard Henry Lee introduced a motion calling for the colonies' independence.

Amid heated debate, Congress postponed the vote on Lee's resolution, but appointed a five-man committee – including Thomas Jefferson of Virginia, John Adams of Massachusetts, Roger Sherman of Connecticut, Benjamin Franklin of Pennsylvania and Robert R. Livingston of New York – to draft a formal statement justifying the break with Great Britain.

Did you know? John Adams believed that July 2nd was the correct date on which to celebrate the birth of American independence, and would reportedly turn down invitations to appear at July 4th events in protest. Adams and Thomas Jefferson both died on July 4, 1826—the 50th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence.
